

Sr. Planner /Scheduler

P6 experience is required and upstream O&G experience is preferred. Strong knowledge and understanding of onshore operations, shale gas a plus. The position would be based in Houston, report to manager of business management, and work for one of the subsurface managers on an operational basis.

- Assist with the implementation of processes that encourage early recognition and assessment of risks and opportunities which could affect the ability to be “drill ready.”
- Review subsurface/land/regulatory planning documents, drawings, estimates, and Well View data to understand planning scope.
- Lead initial interactive planning sessions leveraging information from all stakeholders to establish and maintain an overall well readiness schedule (X-Y Location to Spud) by production area.
- Encourage clear ownership of approved budgets and identify cost (and schedule) reduction opportunities. Interface with other cost team members to maintain the monthly capital forecast.
- Update the schedule regularly and provide analysis and reporting to the Asset Manager and Asset Team. Evaluate schedule alternatives to support project changes.
- Collect schedule, cost, and risk data for the benchmarking process and facilitate preparation for peer or “cold eyes” reviews.
